Burchell's work is of extreme value, as representing the country before its occupation by men of European race. His expedition, undertaken at his own cost and convenience, occupied four years, during which period he travelled nearly five thousand miles, exclusive of smaller excursions into regions not previously explored. His journeys took him as far as Lattakoo on the Kuru-man River. Besides general information respecting the country and its inhabitants, the Author collected above sixty thousand objects and made more than 500 drawings of landscapes, portraits, costumes, zoological, botanical, and other objects. Burchell, according to Selater, "was a most skilful and well-trained zoologist and botanist and his observations are all accurate and methodical."

- 1008 Palmer (Sir Richmond, K.C.M.G.) THE BORNU SAHARA and SUDAN, illustrations, sm. 4to., cl., 1936 (new) £2 2s

This book by Sir Richmond Palmer is the first work of any magnitude with the history of the ancient Empire of Bornu (now represented, territorially, by the North-Eastern province of the Northern group of provinces in Nigeria) as its main theme. Details of the history, which is that of the Maghumi or ruling caste, are assembled in a manner possible only by a writer whose knowledge of the people of the Sahara and Sudan is exceptional. Sir Richmond Palmer's researches cover the Tuareg and other great tribes of that region, and show to what extent the early culture of Northern Nigeria was dependent upon the Bornu people. The book opens the door to a knowledge of the pre-Islamic existence of the tribes with which it deals, and the Author puts forward, with the evidence his researches have made available, the interesting thesis that Bornu (or, more correctly, Barnu) is an ethnic term, synonymous with Barbar, denoting an Iranian group which came into Africa across the Red Sea before the Christian era.

In Wikar's Report we have an account of the daily life and adventures of the first European who is known to have journeyed along the Orange River.

Jansz was the first European who is officially known to have crossed the Orange River.

Van Reenen made a journey which lasted nine months, from the Cape, across the Orange River, to a mountain range in Damaraland and back.

THIS IS THE FIRST TIME THESE IMPORTANT NARRATIVES HAVE BEEN TRANSLATED INTO ENGLISH.

Nos. 16-17.—Isaacs (Nathaniel) Travels and Adventures in Eastern Africa [Natal, 1825-32], edited with Footnotes and a Biographical Sketch, by LOUIS HERRMAN, chart of Port Natal, facsimile of a letter from Isaacs, and reproductions of the original illustrations, 2 vols., 1936-7. (postage 1s 2d) £1 5s

"Isaacs may justly be regarded as one of the founders of Natal . . . and to him we owe the only comprehensive account, written at first hand from day to day, of the history of the savage king Chaka, and an observant eye-witness' accurate description of the Zulu people before they came under European influence. His book is a vivid, detailed, and accurate record of the birth of a great settlement, and he deserves the acclamation of every interested historian." The original edition of his travels, published in 1836, is of extreme rarity.
